Polyolefin Film

Polyolefin Shrink Film is a tough, transparent two-way heat shrinkable film. The shrink rate is stable and balanced during the packing process. After packing is completed, the corners are soft, with toughness, low temperature resistance, no hardening and effective. It is an economical Polyolefin Film that does not generate harmful fumes during use, and can meet the requirements of most automatic and semi automatic packaging equipment.

Examples of Shrink Packaged Products

Our film is widely used in the packaging of food and beverage, medicines, cosmetics, hardware tools, books, fruits and vegetables, auto parts, and home hardware products. Our film effectively plays a role to protect from dust, moisture, and other contaminants, and anti-theft, while maintaining clarity of the product. Sample rolls are readily available for testing along with our representative.

In recent years, with an increasing awareness in environmental protection, packaging materials are constantly evolving. The concept of sustainable packaging continues to be deeply routed in the hearts of people. POF Shrink Film is also focused on this, and working on reducing environmental impact. Our manufacture is constantly working on ways to improve the manufacture of POF Shrink Film, by offering thinner gauges and faster shrink times, while maintaining the quality and durability of the film. POF Shrink Film manufacture and suppliers work hand in hand to continuously bring customer and consumers environmentally conscious materials.
